CRAB ORCHARD.

—Tinsley and Yantis shipped a car of mules to Statesville, N. C., this week for market.

—The young people had a little storm party at Mr. John Edmiston's on Friday night and had a very pleasant time.

—We think there certainly is either a mistake in the weather or the month, as we can only recognize March in this weather.

—Misses Nannie Edmiston and Maggie Tucker are visiting in Stanford. Hon. H. B. Edmiston has returned to Frankfort, leaving Mrs. Edmiston very much improved. Col. Welch was up Saturday viewing the fire, and regretted seeing such an old landmark go. The colonel is quite partial to his native place—Craib Orchard. Uncle Arch Carson, who has been quite feeble this winter, was able to go out to the depot one day this week. Mrs. John Warren is ill with the asthma and grip.

—Quite a number of ladies concluded to take dinner at a bachelor's hall near town one day this week, so, after sending Mr. Hobart word what day they were coming, the party formed, with Mrs. John Huggins and Mrs. W. P. Tatton in the lead, and got along very nicely as far as the pike. After leaving the pike the ladies got out and walked, but felt repaid for all trouble after arriving at the mansion, where Messrs. John and Sam Hobart played hosts and had a dinner prepared fit for queens. From all reports I think the ladies will make it convenient to go again.

—On Saturday morning at about 8 o'clock the citizens were startled by the cry of fire when it was discovered that the old brick hotel, on the corner of Main and Stanford streets, was on fire, and with a strong wind blowing, it looked like it would be impossible to save the surrounding buildings but by the heroic efforts of every one, nothing but the hotel burned, and everything belonging to Judge Haubstadt, who occupied the building, and G. W. Lee, who kept so long in it, was saved. Several families, who occupied the adjoining houses, proved out and the excitement was intense for awhile, but all kept busy at work and soon had the fire under control. Just about the time things were getting quiet another alarm was given that the residence of Mr. D. C. Payne was on fire. Mr. Payne's family left a big fire in the grate when they went to help at the hotel. This fell out and set fire to the sitting room and had it been discovered a few minutes later, would have been beyond control. As it was the loss was slight, the damage being the burning of the carpet and door. The hotel was the property of John Buchanan and J. L. James and was insured for $1,500 in the London & Liverpool & Globe.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

—Col. Adams has offered a bill to abolish the office of assessor.

—A bill to consolidate the offices of sheriff and jailer is before the House.

—A bill was introduced in the Senate to abolish the State Board of Equalization.

—D. Woods' resolution to hold two sessions a day on Tuesdays and Thursdays was adopted.

—The Senate adopted the House resolution instructing Congress to make the election of U. S. Senators by popular vote.

—Kentucky sent a special commissioner to Italy to bring back the body of Ned Hart, but the Legislature has just refused to appropriate $1,000 for a monument on his grave.

—A bill has been introduced in Congress to put a tax of $10 per thousand on cigarettes, the object of which is to raise the price so that they will be beyond the reach of boys. Probably the boys will take warning and lay in an abundant supply of the poisonous articles before the law takes effect.

—Senator Breckinridge has offered a bill to make it a felony for any one to obstruct a public road or private pass-way with wire, rope, chain or other thing and if the obstruction causes death to any person, the culprit shall be tried for wilful murder and hanged or imprisoned for life if the jury believe him guilty.

—Miss Annie Smith, of Richmond, Va., the wife of a lawyer and herself well qualified to practice, was refused admission to the bar on account of her sex. She has had a bill introduced in the Virginia legislature to allow properly qualified women to practice law. The bill has been referred to the Senate Committee on Courts of Justice, who are considering it, and are said to be likely to report it favorably.

—Mr. Joel Kemper, a farmer of Owen county, has what he claims a sure cure for "scab" in sheep. He has tried it and he says it does the work splendidly. Take soft soap and mix with cast oil, enough to make the mixture a thick salve, and apply to affected sheep by rubbing well, and it will kill the disease immediately, and the wool will grow back in a short time.

HUSTONVILLE.

—J. B. Cook has taken a position as traveling salesman for A. R. Clarke & Co., Cincinnati, and will visit the miners in this section in a few days.

—Uncle Ben Allen's friends were happy to welcome him to town again, after nearly two months' confinement by painful afflictions. Except a little bleaching from so long enforced in law discontentment, his friends would not suspect from his appearance or movements that he had been a sufferer. Uncle Jimmie Walker and Uncle Ben are two of our oldest citizens, but time has dealt kindly with both and that they are not yet in the sore and yellow is evidenced by their astonishing activity, and the energy with which their company is sought by their younger acquaintances.

—Some time ago one of our rural enthusiasts regaled an attentive crowd with a lecture on Easter and its traditions and closed his dissertation with the information that "Easter Sunday comes on a Clinch-day this year," which is suggested by Prof. Thompson, of Christian College, having decreed that Washington's birthday shall fall on Friday, the 19th, inst., this year, and the college exercises in celebration of that event will be held next Friday evening. Prof. Thompson has wisely set the date back a few days in view of the derangement of regular routine, which would unavoidably result from strict conformity to date by a Monday night's entertainment.

—The juvenile of to-day can be confidently depended on to "get there" in most emergencies and often to no little discomfiture of the elders. One of our handsomest and most attractive middle-aged young ladies, who is not in the least affected nor sensitive to inferences as to age, when rather ancient reminiscences have been introduced, was lately entertaining a few guests with a piece of amusing minnery, which she rather abruptly abbreviated, one of the appreciative little ones thought, and "pleaded," "Tell it all, Annie, tell it all." "But no, Annie, it hurts my lips," was the unconvincing excuse for not continuing. "Take out your teeth, take out your teeth" was the stunning suggestion and a revelation to many of her intimates, but the young lady increased the admiration in which she was held by all her friends by cheerfully complying with the little fellow's innocent importunities.

—Bob Murphy, a merchant prince of Danville, was here last week visiting friends. Tom Neet, a versatile but jovial knight of long trunks, which are warranted to give sonorous proof, was here last week with a train load of samples, a spread of which demanded all available ground floor space at the Vendome. Four diagonals, coupled with a cheval and immobile pensiveness, leaves no doubt that Hustonville will this season be jolting headquarters for ready-made clothing outfit. Mr. Neet traces his descent directly from a titled progenitor from whom the tide-water city of Neetsville, on Green river, was named, but carries his honors unostentatiously as does Jess Huston the change of his town's name from New Store to Hustonville. Shack Hoffman was at Frankfort last week. Jim Roode is authority for the statement that the organization of the Third House was what drew Shack to the capital.

—The effrontery of quacks has ever been their best "stock in trade" and they keep well abreast of the progressive procession of this wonderful period of universal advancement. Since Lydia Pinkham and one or two others established the advertisement of their nostrums with handsome engraved pictures of the great public benefactors (?) it has become the fad for nearly every upstart to affix his picture to his little song of self-praise or boast of his worthless patient's marvelous virtues. Many of these pictures would not attract a physiognomist or detective's second glance in a scantly stocked rogues' gallery; all the same, they continue an impudent feature of pictorial advertisement colums in all periodicals of assured circulation. The culmination of this style of advertisement is reached by one tress in his allegorical almanac, wherein his friends and patrons are represented by an army of greenies, in which a superannuated jackass is conspicuous. He has carried his grim humor even to the extreme of a suggestive scene of sucker fishing. Notwithstanding his palpable hits at the class who freely give up their hard earnings for his vanquished nostrums, they condone the insults heaped on them by his laughable and suggestive classification of patent medicine takers with greenies, jackasses and snakes. Barnum was generally ahead of his generation in profitably pandering to a sensation-loving public, but his extraordinary philosophical acumen will be perpetuated in his addition to the list of impressive axioms: "The American people thrive on humbuggy." In this age of snuffmyness as well as snuffmyness solicitude it is surprising that our legislative philanthropists do not find a little more time to devote to the festive patent medicine fiends. We haven't been there, nor read "In Dar

—The young German resident of Lincoln county recently bought a piece of land in the county, to which the title is not clear. His friends advised him not to pay for the land or to go to work upon it till the matter was settled in the courts. The litigation is now pending in the Court of Appeals. The aforesaid German, who is too fresh from the Fatherland to write English or to understand a republican form of government, has written here to Mr. John R. Procter, of the Theological Survey. After explaining the situation, he says: "Will you be so good as to go to the governor and tell him to have the Court of Appeals hurry up my case? It is time I was at work." —G. L. W. in Louisville Times.

—First Boy (contemptuously)—"Huh! You ma takes in washing."

—Second Boy—"Of course; you didn't suppose she'd leave it hanging 'ant over night unless your pa was in jail, did ye?" —New York Herald.

—To date there had been marketed of the new cotton crop 7,534,697 bales, against 7,105,352 bales last year for the same period.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Samley Hughes has accepted the position of "devil" in the Record office.

—Miss Marion Lowell, of Boston, will give a public reading at the court-house next Friday evening.

—Mr. Joseph Simpson, a wealthy and influential farmer, of Buckeye, died Sunday morning, aged 74.

—The St. Valentine's party given at the Holmes House, Saturday night, by the W. C. T. U. was liberally patronized and a new little sum was realized.

—As Mr. Gideon Rothwell was returning to his home in Upper Garrard, Saturday night, the team became frightened and ran away breaking Mr. Rothwell's leg.

—Circuit Court adjourned Saturday night after a very busy term. The grand jury returned 123 indictments, mostly for misdemeanors. A special term of the court was ordered to be held March 12, at which time several equity cases will be tried.

—Judge Morrow granted a new trial to Estis, the man tried for wire stretching and fined $500 in addition to one year's imprisonment in the county jail. His bail has been fixed at $300 in the case for wire stretching and $500 in the case for arson. He is yet in jail.

—There is to be another big dinner in New York on the 27th inst., at which 27 mugs, including the president and several members of his cabinet, are to eat and speak. Depew, Ingalls and Ingalls are among the guests and it is thought that they will speak all night till broad daylight and go home with red eyes in the morning.

—Clyde Herring, of Louisville, is visiting Dr. Herring. Miss Lou Grant, is visiting in Columbia, Tenn. A. D. Knox, the life-insurance man, is in town. Capt. W. J. Kinnaird, of Middlesboro, is visiting his parents. Dr. J. W. Grant has gone to Somerset. Judge T. Z. Morrow has returned home. Mrs. R. E. Elkin has returned to Louisville.

—The holding over of the Shelton Brothers as a result of their trial last Monday, for the burning of F. M. Sampson's store, is simply the result most everybody anticipates, as there was found in their possession clothing belonging to Mr. Sampson bearing his private mark, which he positively identified. This together with the whole train of circumstances makes some pretty strong evidence against them.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—A very unexpected death occurred here at three o'clock this morning. Mr. B. Fowler, an aged man, was going around as usual until bedtime last night, but was taken severely ill some time in the night and only lived a few hours. His death is said to have been caused by disease of the heart.

—Our town is unusually dull at this time, with the exception of a torrent of drummers that have poured in upon us for the past week or two. Their ingress has been so rapid for a few days that it would take an expert stenographer to note the hotel arrivals. We therefore fail to name them personally.

—It must be remembered by members of the 1st Kentucky cavalry especially, that on the 22d inst., there is a called meeting for them to appear here and celebrate Washington's birthday with appropriate speeches and talk about the history of the regiment now on hands and in a progressive state.

—The very inclement weather this winter, brought about by Mr. John W. Whipple's favorite weather prophet, Foster, has been very inconvenient to our anglers this winter and to none more so than our skillful lawyer, J. Boyle Stone, who, in all pleasant weather, generally finds in most of his time, not devoted to his clients, in seeking after the finny tribe. In Boyle's earlier days he could find employment for his rather active mind in leisure hours, in fastening tin cans to dog's tails and see them go like greased lightning through the town, but since he has become a married man, his better half has vetoed that amusement.

—The effrontery of quacks has ever been their best "stock in trade" and they keep well abreast of the progressive procession of this wonderful period of universal advancement. Since Lydia Pinkham and one or two others established the advertisement of their nostrums with greenies, jackasses and snakes. Barnum was generally ahead of his generation in profitably pandering to a sensation-loving public, but his extraordinary philosophical acumen will be perpetuated in his addition to the list of impressive axioms: "The American people thrive on humbuggy."

STANFORD, KY., FEBRUARY, 16 1892

W. P. WALTON.

The Lower House of Congress is beginning to verify the fears of its friends and the prophecies of its enemies. The democrats have a majority of 150 and yet the little handful of republicans, headed by Ex-Czar Reed, have on more than one occasion gotten the better of parliamentary tactics. Nothing of importance has been done yet and one day last week the body had actually to adjourn because of a quorum. The fact of it is there is no leader in whom there is confidence. The old tried and true men have been relegated to the rear to make room for Crisp supporters and the unwieldy majority drifts aimlessly about. A Moses is needed to lead it out of the wilderness.

The Hill men, who are as much in the minority in Bourbon as elsewhere in Kentucky, attempted to form a club at Paris, but according to the News it was a miserable failure. There were only 24 men in all present and they decided to adjourn till March court day to organize. It will be remembered that it was sent out in the dispatches that an organization was effected with 300 members and the number would be increased to 1,000 in a few days. This is the lying way the Hill men are trying to manufacture a sentiment for him in Kentucky, but it won't work. Kentucky is for Cleveland first, last and all the time, if his availability is not destroyed by a factional fight in New York.

The enterprising Evening Journal of Atlanta has been taking a poll of the State of Georgia on presidential preferences. Twelve or more of the most prominent democrats in each of 87 towns in 73 counties were interviewed, when 840 expressed themselves for Cleveland and 270 for Hill. The total number of expressions were about 1,500 and while Gray, Gorman and others got votes, Cleveland leads the entire field with only 300 against him. The Atlanta Constitution, which preaches Hill in and out of season, doesn't seem to be any great shakes of an opinion moulder. The honest masses can not be led from Cleveland.

As an offset to the snap judgment taken by the Hill committee in New York, a combination is said to have been formed whereby five North Western States will throw their votes solidly to Cleveland in early conventions. The States are Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. Hill and his adherents are willing to undertake any desperate game to carry their point, but they may overdo it and lose all. The people are not going to submit to machine methods if they can help it and we rather think they can.

There are numerous and sundry jacksasses in the Legislature, but it seems that the Hon. Gee Dawson is entitled to the blue ribbon. His reference to the editor of the Louisville Times on a question of personal privilege shows that he is a very cheap and disgusting old fraud, who, if reports be true, should represent his county in an inebriate asylum, instead of in the House of Delegates.

A BILL is before the Legislature to pension all disabled Kentucky soldiers on either side during the late war. As all the federals who are entitled to them get pensions now, and but few confederates have allowed themselves to need pensions, the bill seems rather a useless effort, especially since there would be no funds to pay the pensions if it passed.

Gov. McKinley predicts that there will be no change in the burdensome and odious law which bears his name in 25 years. The laboring class, at least, will not look up to the governor as a prophet or the son of a prophet, since all his prophecies of benefits to them under his law have signally failed to come to pass.

The New York Sun charges that Gen. Alger was dismissed from the army in 1864 on recommendation of Gen. Sheridan for deserting his command, and claims that it can prove it. The charge has created a great sensation and is a settler to the Michiganener's presidential aspirations, if true.

The pension bureau is to be investigated in earnest. A committee consisting of a majority of democrats has been appointed by the House and life will be made burdensome for the commissioner from now on if the committee do its duty and half of the scandal attached to the office be true.

The Cynthiana papers promise to be run by women. Mrs. G. H. Givens has bought the Courier from E. D. Veach and Miss Mary Varon, of Stanford, has a proposition from the Democrat of the same town to sell her a half interest, and she is considering the matter seriously.

A CINCINNATI firm advertises that it will send a recipe for making Bourbon whisky for the small sum of 10 cents. Too cheap, even for suckers. Such a recipe would not be a drug on the market at a thousand times the price.

J. F. Price has been arrested at Campbellsville for killing Mrs. Nancy Nunn in Metcalfe county.

They do say that John James Ingalls has joined the alliance in Kansas. He thinks he sees that it is his only chance for political preferment and without preferment life is to him as a sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal.

NEWSY NOTES.

James M. Boring has been appointed U. S. storekeeper in this district.

Numerous suits against it have caused the Alexander Hotel, Louisville, to assign.

Richard Higdon, a negro, now runs on the mail line between Louisville and Lexington.

It is estimated that our penal institutions contain 100,000 inmates at a total expense of about $15,000,000.

The Grand Central Hotel at El Paso, Texas, burned, the 200 guests escaping. Loss $200,000; insurance $100,000.

The cash balance in the United States treasury is stated to be $28,490,947, the smallest sum for many years.

Somerset is without an Opera House in the town proper. Owings' has been closed and will be turned into offices.

Judge John Kemp Goodloe, a noted Kentucky barrister, died at Thomasville, Ga., where he had gone for his health.

The Russian peasants, whom starvation is staring in the face are at present suffering an intense cold spell of 5° below zero.

Two negroes who robbed and burned a store at Ronning, Ala., were taken from officers who arrested them and hanged by a mob.

D. K. Jones, a preacher, is in jail at Flemingsburg, charged with incest, his 18-year-old daughter being the victim. He is 65 years old.

The jury in the case of Owen Bradley, the well known race horse trainer, charged with killing Price Jenkins, at Lexington, failed to agree.

Kansas produced nearly 30,000,000 bushels of wheat last year, and the average this year promises to exceed that of 1891 by fully 25 per cent.

John A. McCall has been elected president of the New York Life Insurance Co. The salary is as much as that of the president of the United States.

The republican convention hall at Minneapolis will seat 12,000 persons. The architect says it will be the best convention hall ever constructed in the country.

The Brooklyn democrats in mass meeting added their protests against the midwinter convention called in the interest of Hill.

Italians are investigating the merits of Australia for immigration. The United States is not in it since the New Orleans episode.

Mrs. Heller, widow of the millionaire doctor at Boston is dead and her husband's will that she be buried in a $40,000 casket will be carried out.

Will Larender, a colored man, who attempted an assault on Alice Perry, a white girl, was taken from the officers at Roanoke, Va., and hanged to a tree.

Elijah Pardue and his wife were found in their home near Gallatin, Tenn., with their throats cut. A note was found from the woman saying that they had agreed to die together.

At Bangor, Maine, the grand jury has indicted every rum-seller in the city. There are over 200 of them, altho' the strictest kind of a prohibition law is on the statute books.

Boston had the heaviest snowstorm Thursday that the city has experienced in years. The wires were down all over the city on account of the weight of the damp snowflakes.

A mass meeting of democrats was held in New York to protest against "ineffective methods" and the holding of the State convention on Feb. 22, after only four weeks' notice.

A jilted lover named Peter Fritz, of Chicago, avenged his one-time sweethearts Katie Baumgarten, and threw a vial of vitriol in her face. The girl will lose both eyes and is now insane.

One of the leading jewelers of Paris, France, stole $166,250 in gold from his father's safe and with his mistress mysteriously left the country. He is thought to be on his way to England or America.

Thobe, the labor candidate, who came near slipping up on Carlisle a few years ago, has got an additional reward from the republicans in the shape of an inspectorship of the immigration bureau.

Senator Hill and the chiefs of Tammany held a conference in New York Saturday night and one of the results was a determination to pay no attention to the recent protest of democrats against the early convention.

The Pineville Messenger says that when Judge Boyd passed sentence on Speed Farmer for 10 days in jail, he replied "I don't give a continental darn," whereupon the judge added 10 days more for contempt.

For years the retail whisky traffic has flourished in Elizabethtown, despite the law forbidding it in both the town and the county. The result has been a bonafide crop of drunkenness, perjury and murder.

At Mt. Sterling, John Samuel was shot and killed by Dr. G. A. Rechart. Samuel assaulted the physician with a stick because he had made disparaging remarks about his wife.

Some drunken miners fired on the pickets at Coal Creek, Tenn., convict camp. The fire was returned with a Gatling gun and two of the men were crippled. More arms and ammunition have been telegraphed for and trouble is feared.

Representative Wilson introduced a bill providing for holding United States Courts at Barberville and Somersett; also a bill putting the State Harlan County battalion and the Three Forks battalion on the same footing as to pensions as United States troops.

The armies of the civilized nations of the world number 3,600,000 men. Besides the loss of their time and labor they cost at least $1,000 a year each and that amounts to $3,600,000. This doesn't include the U. S. pensioners, who draw about $200,000,000 more.

In a fight with three men in Clay county, Bob Sizemore was shot and instantly killed. The killing occurred at the headwaters of Redbird creek. It is the outgrowth of an old feud. The names of two of the parties who were implicated are Gen. Bolling and Felix Farmer.

In Grayson county there is a little village with less than 100 souls, yet on one night last week 12 women added a contribution each to the population. There was scarcely a sufficient number of women not engaged to take care of those who were attending to important business.

The man sent after a coffin for Mrs. Wilson, in Illinois, got drunk and caused the funeral to be postponed. While she was being prepared for burial, and being conscious all the time of what was going on, she finally by a great effort made a feeble but effective protest against being treated as a corpse.

It looks like we have soldiers' homes enough, but Representative Wilson has introduced a bill asking for an appropriation of $250,000 to establish one, under the management of the National Soldiers' Home, in either of the following counties of Kentucky with railroad facilities: Palatka, Laurel, Whitley, Knox or Bell.

About the 11th of May there will be a competitive examination in the 11th Congressional district of Kentucky to select two young men for appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis and the Military Academy at West Point. These appointments will be made on the recommendation of Mr. Wilson.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

Rev. A. V. Sizemore will preach at Rowland next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Elder H. L. Eadie, the head of the Shaker church at South Union, Ky., is dead, aged 89.

Talmage gets $6,000 a year from the American Press Association for his services, in addition to what the dailies pay him.

Martha Washington's Bible has just been sold by a New York firm to a Mr. Gunter, of Chicago, for $4,000. The firm paid $1,000 for it at the Washington sale in Philadelphia last year.

Rev. George O. Barnes and family, after a five weeks' voyage, have arrived in New Orleans and are the guests of Rev. W. C. Barnes, with whom they will stay till spring and then come to Kentucky.

Evangelist Dixon C. Williams, closed his meeting at Jeffersonville, Ind., Friday evening. It lasted five weeks and there were 442 conversions, including some of the most prominent men of the place.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

The time card of the Norfolk & Western, the new route to the seaboard, appears in this issue. It is the most direct to Old Point and Northern cities and the route is through the most picturesque country.

Eighty horses were burned in the street-car stable at Norfolk, Va.

A sensation was created among the members of the General Assembly, at Frankfort, when it was discovered that after all, according to the leading legal minds of the Senate, the Goebel lottery bill is worthless. It contains an emergency clause and didn't get the requisite number of votes.

In a card published in the Lexington Leader, G. W. Gentry announces himself a candidate for delegate from the State-at-large to the National republican convention. He says it is conceded that one colored republican will be sent and as he has done more for the party than he has for himself and has always worked and voted in its interests he thinks he is entitled to the honor. He further says he is for Harrison and believes he can be elected.

I have quite a number of FARMS for sale of the very best quality. Land, timber, water, &c.

The farms are all well improved and good farms running in size from 40 to 100 acres.

Considering their locality, their richness and fertility or soil the convenience of turnpikes and railroads that bring markets right to our door, they are among the best farms in the country in this State. There is scarcely a farm in the country over 40 miles from a depot.

The county is crossed with turnpikes running every direction and seat of the state, Macomb, etc. We have the Knoxville branch of the C. & N. W. dividing the county from East to West and the C. S. R. R. from North to South, the C. K. C. R. from the place to Cincinnati, crossing the C. & O. at Winchester, giving full access to the markets of the West. The county has a number of fine mills in the country which give us a market for all our grain right at home, and the development of the mountain regions of Eastern and South-Eastern Kentucky is rapidly making out.

Some railroads have already been built in the county and are creating a demand for all kinds of cereals and provisions that we can scarcely retain enough for home consumption.

The people are prosperous, generous and kind, believing in Christianity and education. They have a good church and school-house here.

Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln, is a prosperous little city of about 2,500 inhabitants and is the great doorway into the North and South. It is a good place to live in, has a good school and is a good place to do business.

We have a large brick building, 100 x 150 ft. in size, with a large room on the second floor, and the first floor is 100 x 50 ft. It is a good place to do business.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Richard Green, clever and timely at J. B. Foster's.

A few accounts of 1891 are unsettled. Call and settle by cash or note, A. R. Penny.

Frank Sweeny, an L. & N. brakeman, fell from a box car while coming down Crooked Hill, Friday morning, and sustained serious injuries about his right shoulder.

While sitting in front of the fire at his home a few nights ago, Tommy Ball fainted and fell in the fire, severely burning his right hand. His head and knee were also slightly burned.

A literary treat is in store for those who attend Walton's Opera House on Thursday night. Miss Marion Lowell is one of the finest readers before the American public and should be greeted by a full house.

January has come and gone and our books show that there are still some accounts unpaid. Our friends will please bear in mind that we have been exceedingly indulgent and will consider it quite a favor if they will come forward and settle. Sime and Menefee.

LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT.—Miss Marion Lowell, the noted public reader of Boston, will give one of her charming entertainments, consisting of humorous, tragic and pathetic recitals from eminent authors, at the Opera House, on Thursday eve, Feb. 18th. Miss Lowell is no amateur. She has read in all the literary centres of 19 States. This entertainment is under the auspices of Stanford Female College and is a literary treat seldom afforded our people. Let us give this talented lady a large audience. Admission 35c, children 25c, reserved seats 50c.

WHEN hungry go to Zimmer's. Oysters served in any style, and regular dinners.

Landmark's and Ferry's Garden Seeds, Pens and Buttons at A. A. Warren's Model Grocery.

The handsomest line of white goods and Hammonds I ever saw, is what the ladies say of our stock. Severance & Son.

The L. & N. will sell round-trip tickets to the Mardi Gras in Mobile and New Orleans Feb. 26 to 29 inclusive at one fare, good to return March 15.

Rieg Utman was fined $50 in Squire S. B. Caldwell's court at Waynesburg, Friday, for giving John Tsooch, an infant in the eyes of the law, a drink of whisky.

Mr. Wm. Moreland, the enterprising stock buyer, starts in this morning with a yearly carl. Read his ad. and consult him when you want to buy cattle, sheep or hogs.

A new boy at Mr. A. C. Cartman's makes the old man feel young again and forget for awhile that he was ever thrown from a wagon in a runaway land had his shin bone driven six inches into the rocky pine.

Thieves effected an entrance into the store room of Jesse D. Wearen, Thursday night, and breaking into his safe drawer relieved it of its contents, amounting to $19. The store was entered thru the rear door and was opened by the use of a crow bar, or some such tool.

Hon. J. W. Yerkes, chairman, has issued a call for a republican district convention of the 8th Congressional district, to be held at Nicholaville, Friday, Mar. 25, for the purpose of electing two delegates and two alternate district delegates to the republican national convention at Minneapolis.

The examining trial of Green, Gentry for the murder of Joe Goode was called Friday and continued till yesterday when it was again continued till Wednesday at 10 A. M. Hon. R. G. Warren, counsel for the accused, announced that he could not be ready with his witness before them.

When Marshal Tom Martin, of Rowland, attempted to arrest John Herbert for being drunk and disorderly he resisted and got knocked down for his trouble. The officer then brought him here and lodged him in jail and he will be tried this morning. He claims to be from Clay and it is thought he is wanted there for some crime.

As the north bound express was coming down Pine Hill, Monday morning, Engineer Phil Soden saw a handslide just in time to shut off steam, reverse and jump. He escaped unharmed, but Tom Martin, his fireman, who also jumped, was badly injured in the back. The engine struck the slide tightly so but little damage was done and after two hours' delay the train went on its way.

The young ladies of Stanford have decided to give a Leap Year party, Feb. 29. It will be at the Coffey House, where an elegant supper will be served and where dancing will be enjoyed to music furnished by the best band procurable. The young ladies intend that the affair shall eclipse anything of the kind ever given in this section and we will wager that they will be more than successful.

The Superior court has affirmed the decision of the Lincoln Circuit Court in the case of Stephens vs. the L. & N. R., holding that a limited ticket is good for the holder to start on his journey before midnight of the last day and complete the trip, even if he has to change trains in doing so, and that the verdict of $350 damages for forcible ejection from the car is not excessive.

We go to press too early to speak of the merits of J. C. Lewis' St. Plunkard Co., but we are sure that all who attend will be repaid.

The band gave an amusing parade and disengaged some fine music to a large crowd drawn to hear it.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have only been married five weeks and Sunday night being the anniversary of Mrs. Lewis' birth, they celebrated it by giving a musical entertainment to a few honored guests at their hotel, who greatly enjoyed it.

Mrs. Lewis is a lovely little blonde and can warble like a bird, besides being a fine performer on the piano. Mr. Tom Edwards, also a warbler and a fine vocalist, assisted and contributed much to the evening's pleasure. Mr. Lewis is himself young and handsome and he and his bride make a very interesting pair.

A few nights ago Mr. L. R. Borders, a traveling man, arrived at this place on a night train and stopped at the Coffey House. He had collected $540 and as there was no bank or safe open and fearing that he might get "tapped," he secreted the money, most of which was in gold, in one of his shoes. Bob Whitley the porter at that hostelry, came up the next morning and tipping in so as not to arouse Mr. Borders, took the shoes down to black them. His surprise on finding the money was great indeed, but not much more so than the owner when he awoke to find his shoes gone. Mr. Borders at once began search and fortunately for him had not proceeded far in his stocking feet till he came across Bob, who with peculiar honesty handed him over the entire "wad."

For Sale.—A buggy horse. Will trade for cattle if party desires. M. F. Elkin & Co.

For Sale.—75 cords of wood at $1.50 in woods; 300 yards from pike on county road. A. M. Pehaud.

Babe Hansford and Tom Bailey, both colored, were each fined $5 for engaging in a street fight. They had both drawn knives, but were parted before they had an opportunity of using them.

After running all day Sunday a water spout came at 5 o'clock, covering the earth several inches and making the streets for the time impassable. Yesterday was clear and pleasant, the cold wave having failed to materialize. Cold, fair, fair is to-day's forecast.

The aurora borealis, which was witnessed here Saturday night, was seen over the Northern States from the Atlantic to Iowa. It is rarely seen as far south as Kentucky, this being the second since 1872. The clouds in the North were a beautiful rose red and the sight for nearly an hour was one of beauty.

Rev. G. W. Bolano says that the story that he had found a pocket book on the train and had been charged with abstracting $20 from it was a joke. He did find an empty pocket book which somebody had dropped to see who would pick it up. There was a charge that it contained $20, but it was untrue and the whole thing was done for a laugh. The persons who made it appear otherwise are enemies of the person, who intends to show them up in their true light.

The New Cash Store has just opened the finest lot of boys' and youths' clothing, shirts and waists, and gents' negligee shirts, hose and ties ever opened up in Stanford. We have nice negligee shirts at from 25c to $2.50. We will sell this week ladies' Scotch Homespun dress patterns at $2.50, $1.25, $1.00, $0.80 and $0.50. We are still leaders in white goods, embroidery, lace, &c., and are receiving additions to our stock every day. John S. Hughes.

The continued case of W. G. Holland for liquor license at Kingsville, was heard before Judge Varnon Saturday and refused. Considerably more than a majority of the legal voters protested against the license and there was no other alternative. It is claimed that there are 44 legal voters in the town. Of these 32 signed the protest. The applicant showed that six were not entitled to vote. In that event there are but 38 while the protestants number 27.

An old colored man in town was giving a couple of buckets of milk the other night to be taken to a party who lives near the Christian church. Prayer meeting was going on in the lecture room of that church and the old negro, not very well acquainted here, walked up to the door, knocked and handed in the milk. Mr. A. A. Warren, who responded to the rap at the door, was perplexed and knowing that milk was not spiritual food, called the darky back and gave him his treasure to deliver elsewhere.

Dick Owess, a Bell county moonshiner, was captured at Bowland, Sunday, by John Carrier and Marshal Newland on a dispute from Deputy U. S. Marshal L. L. Johnson, and lodged in jail. Owens says that the deputy and his prisoners were all enjoying themselves drinking and cracking jokes and when they got to Riley's the whole tea party was half drunk. He was in that fix himself, but he knew enough to accept a chance to escape and when his train stopped for a freight to pass he jumped aboard the freight and was making his way back to the hills of Bell, when captured as still ed.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF STANFORD, KY.

Capital Stock $200,000

Surplus 18,500

Attention of the public is invited to the fact that this is the only Bank in Stanford.
Under the provisions of the National Bank Act depositors are secured not only in the capital stock, but in the stockholders liability to an amount equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $200,000.

Five annual statements of the condition of the bank are made each year to the United States government and its assets are examined at stated times by government agents, securing additional and permanent protection.

The institution, originally established as the Deposit Institute of Stanford in 1853, then reorganized as the National Bank of Stanford, and again reorganized as the First National Bank of Stanford, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 25 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business prompt and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable career. Accounts of corporations, estates, firms and individuals respectfully solicited.

The Directors of this Bank is composed of —D. N. Prewitt bought of John Cash, Mrs. Neal and others a lot of butcher cattle at 2 to 2 1/2.

—Senator Stanford has sold three of his Electioneering colts for $50,000. One of them, Belshir, a yearling, brought $25,000.

—Ben Campbell sold, last week, to J. Caldwell, of Boyle, 27 head of extra good fodder, 150 tons baled hay, 600 barrels of corn and 40 head 60-pound sheets. Call on G. C. Lyon, Hustonville.

—Will Moreland sold to J. A. Harris & Son, 8 heifers, average 800 pounds at $3 and bought of Emmett McCormick in Danville, Thursday morning, 40 cattle $800 to 1,300 pounds at 2 to 2 1/2.

—M. S. Baughman bought at Lexington a standard bred mare in foal to Anteo. Anteo, it will be remembered sold a year ago for $55,000 and stands now at $500.

—Mr. S. H. Baughman had the misfortune to lose a fine filly by Lincoln, on Friday night and has four others sick with influenza. He has lost a dozen good horses within the last year.

—The Irovers' Journal says: E. L. Van Meter bought in Chicago 15 cars of nice fleshly feeders, averaging 1,050, in $3. He will ship them to Emery & Burch, of Louisville, to go into a distillery.

—T. F. Alexander sold to Robert Clemens, of Lexington, a car load of hogs averaging 322 pounds, at 4c. He also shipped a car-load to Cincinnati, averaging about 160 pounds, at 3 1/2c.—Woodford Sun.

owns 700,000 acres of land.

—Jas. Cosby shipped a car-load of mules to Georgia in January, but there was no market and they were costing him $1 a day to feed them, so he shipped them back home and will hold them a while longer.—Richmond Register.

—J. S. A. McCord, of near Cowan Station, Fleming county, has a lamb which is the most remarkable thing we have ever seen. It has two heads, four ears, two eyes, eight legs and two tails. All the extremities are perfect in shape, except one head, which is nothing but a knot with the ears attached.—Carlisle
Mercury.

—The old saw runs: "When a dog is down everybody kicks him," and that seems to be the fate of the new constitution. Jack Hendricks has kicked it, the House has kicked it, and now comes the board of magistrates of Marshall county, who levy a poll tax of $2 when the new instrument expressly provides that it shall not exceed more than $1.50.—Hazel Green Herald.

—Jas. Cosby shipped a car-load of mules to Georgia in January, but there was no market and they were costing him $1 a day to feed them, so he shipped
them back home and will hold them a while longer.—Richmond Register.

—J. S. A. McCord, of near Cowan Station, Fleming county, has a lamb which is the most remarkable thing we have ever seen. It has two heads, four ears,
two eyes, eight legs and two tails. All
the extremities are perfect in shape, except one head, which is nothing but a knot with the ears attached.—Carlisle
Mercury.

—It was Cleveland's idea that it was the duty of the people to support the government, not of the government to support the people, but that is an antiquated notion that has fallen into innocuous desuetude. Last year the government brought upon its pay rolls the names of 600,000 pensioners and 247,200 employees.
No wonder taxes amounting to more than $1,000,000 a day are inadequate to the support of a paternal government with so large a family on its hands.—
Louisville Times.

—Look Out For Him.—About two months ago a young man came to this city and solicited the enlarging of pictures.
He charged $1 for the work and required $1 to be paid in advance in every instance. He secured a good many dollars and several pictures which were the only ones had of some dead friend or relative. If anyone sees him send him to this city, we will turn him over to the ladies whom he beat, and will then ship his remains to any address.—

—A noted Western man riding across the country and noticing thousands of acres of cornstalks standing in the field from which the ears had been jerked said:
"The farmer is conducting the only business in the world that allows a man to lose 45 per cent. of his capital stock and at the same time live."

—In order to photograph the flying insect, the exposure must last only 1-250th part of a second. This the French photographer, M. Marey, claims to have accomplished by the aid of a new instrument invented by himself. He has also photographed the blood globules circulating in a vein.

—Beggar—Sir, I am starving.

Crossus—Here, take this cent and tell me how you came so miserably poor.

Beggar—Ah, sir, I was like you, I was too fond of giving large sums of money to the poor.—Epict.

Bukenstein—Vat you gif der baby dis year.

Foldkam—Ach, ve vos sly like foxes.
Ve vait till Grissus ant gif him his name.—Judge.

—In 1858 the democratic national ticket, on a platform of radical tariff reform, carried the country on the popular vote by a majority exceeding 100,000. In 1860, on the same platform, it swept the country. If the democracy stands by its colors this year there need be no fear that it will meet with any "misadventure" in November.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

—Now, children, who was the strongest man? I asked the Sunday-school superintendent. "John L. Samson," yelled a little fellow, whose knowledge of sacred and profane history was somewhat mixed.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Mrs. Charles Chick, of Canaan, Me., is making the most of her opportunities in the world. She is not yet 25 years of age, but the mother of ten children, the oldest of whom has seen but nine summers.

—The marriage of a 91-year-old maiden, with a fortune of $500,000, to her physician, aged 30 or thereabouts, is a dolorous affair for her relatives and a dolorous affair for her young husband, New York Press.

—Judge Z. Gibbons has brought suit at Lexington against his divorced wife, a physician, for $1,000 loaned her before the divorce was granted and for two life insurance policies in her possession. The judge recently married a young Louisville woman.
